Nebraska Credit Union League

One Vision...One Voice

• Our story is that of our members. The League was founded in 1934 to support the emerging credit union system.

• During the 1950s, 1960s, and 1970s, the League was primarily engaged in helping organize credit unions and helping them grow.

• By the 1980s, we were advocating for credit unions in the legislative and regulatory arenas and developing products and services to help credit unions compete.

• With an uncertain future facing credit unions, the League is providing the leadership and resources necessary to help member credit unions meet the challenges and seize the opportunities of the market.
Nebraska Credit Union League: One Vision...One Voice

Our Mission:
• To promote, protect, and preserve the interest of our member credit unions.

Our Strategic Vision:

Helping Credit Unions Compete
COVID-19 League Response

As COVID-19 required Credit Unions to adjust to meet the evolving needs of their members and communities, The League compiled numerous resources to assist and help inform credit unions of day-to-day operational changes and overall business continuity strategies. Resources included: business continuity plans, operational guidance, health & wellness information and products, small CU PPE grants and more.
COVID-19 League Resources

- Throughout the COVID-19 crisis the League has provided numerous resources to help credit unions navigate these largely unchartered waters
  - COVID-19 Web Resource Page
  - Numerous COVID Related Webinars
  - COVID Related Advocacy Activities
  - COVID Related Research
COVID-19 Federal Response

Throughout the pandemic the League continually monitored Congressional and state action to ensure the interests of credit unions were considered and protected.

Federal Action: Congress passed, and the President signed into law, four emergency stimulus bills dealing with the COVID-19 crisis. In addition, legislation making important changes to the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) was signed into law.
COVID-19 Federal Response

Phase 1: Provided $8.3 billion in emergency funding for developing, manufacturing and procuring vaccines and medical equipment.

Phase 2: Was largely geared toward shoring up nutrition assistance programs, stabilizing unemployment insurance and new emergency FMLA and sick leave requirements on small employers.

Phase 3: Congress passed the CARES Act providing an initial $349 billion in funds allowing the Small Business Administration to implement Paycheck Protection Program (PPP).

Phase 3.5: Congress passed the Paycheck Protection Program and Health Care Enhancement Act providing an additional $310 billion in funding for PPP of which $30 billion was allocated to financial institutions under $10 million in assets.
COVID-19 State Response

State Action:

- Co-hosted credit union roundtable with Department of Banking & Finance
- Worked with NDB&F on virtual CU meetings and offsite examinations
- Worked with Governor Ricketts to ensure credit unions were designated as “essential services”
- Worked with Governor Ricketts and Secretary of State to move up the implementation date for remote/online notary
Advocacy: If it is important to credit unions...it is essential to us

• Access to the not-for-profit, cooperative financial services model is one of the greatest gifts available in our nation’s economic system.

• Advocacy ensures credit unions will always be there to build bright financial futures for people.

• Advocacy is everyone’s privilege and responsibility.
Advocacy: If it is important to credit unions...it is essential to us

While the League delivers the credit union message in Lincoln and Washington, D.C., the grassroots efforts of credit unions in the community are just as, if not more important.

Educating lawmakers about the credit union difference and how the movement is helping their constituents is a critical part of our advocacy strategy of removing barriers.

Credit union leaders need to take every opportunity to reach out to legislators and actively advocate on behalf of the movement.
Advocacy: If it is important to credit unions...it is essential to us

Advocacy Priorities:

1. Protect the credit union tax exemption
2. Stand up to banker attacks on credit unions
3. Fight for expanded fields of membership
4. Reduce burdensome regulations...enact common sense regulations
5. Modernize the Federal & State Credit Union Acts
Advocacy: If it is important to credit unions...it is essential to us

Moving Mountains for Credit Union Members

- Credit unions have once again proved they are consumers’ best financial partner, having moved mountains for their members this year.
- From the millions in Paycheck Protection Program loans that saved Main Street jobs, to loan payment deferrals and modifications that helped consumers keep their cars and stay in their homes, CUs have and continue to fulfill their “people helping people” mission.
- To do this extraordinary work in an environment where millions of Americans were quarantined and working remotely, credit union needed legislative and regulatory flexibilities. It is a testament to the credit union movement that its advocates were so conditioned and prepared to respond as thoughtfully and as rapidly as needed.
- The early draft of the CARES Act did not include credit unions as conduits for distributing financial relief to those who lost jobs or had to close their businesses – the very people most likely to be our members. The League, CUNA and credit union advocates went to work fast and reversed that.
- The $2.2 trillion economic stimulus package that passed in March counted on credit unions to help consumers. Can you imagine the outcome if our members had been forced to wait their turn at a for-profit financial institution?
- Advocacy also helped lead state and federal regulatory agencies in providing flexibility and adjusting policies that help credit unions serve their members during the pandemic. Examples include authorization for remote exams, virtual board and annual meetings, and broader access to digital financial transactions, such as electronic signatures and remote notarizations.
- When credit unions reported that economic impact payments and enhanced unemployment benefits resulted in an influx of deposits, the NCUA understood that credit unions needed temporary flexibility in capitalization standards.
- Advocates tell the story, lawmakers and regulators listen, and members’ best interests are protected.
- It sounds simple, but in reality, is the result of years of hard work creating disciplined, strategic and intentional 360/24/7 advocacy.

- Open Your Eyes – The Open Your Eyes consideration and awareness initiative is based on nationwide research that is ongoing and real time. It is lifted by brand messaging aimed at overcoming critical obstacles. The campaigns digital-first marketing efforts are optimized to reach key target audiences, primarily non-members ages 25-34.

- Credit unions are in an ongoing battle for positioning and relevance in the marketplace. The Open Your Eyes Campaign is designed to attract more consumers to credit unions and grow the industry.
  - The Challenge: 98% of non-members have heard of credit unions
  - Far too few can recall a credit union when asked to list options available for financial services
  - The Opportunity: 75% of non-members surveyed would consider a credit union after viewing the Open Your Eyes Campaign

- Credit Union Awareness helps credit unions break through barriers that block consumers from considering CUs for financial services. Open Your Eyes assists all credit unions in their work to:
  - Correct misperceptions held by consumers such as “I can’t join” or “it’s only local” that hold back our industry
  - Put credit unions at the forefront when considering financial services and products
  - Create opportunities to grow credit union memberships over time

Moving Forward – Post COVID Preparedness

It is clear that the COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way we do business – likely for good. But for every struggle that the coronavirus brought with it, it is also clear that it unlocked a world of new opportunities for credit unions, too.

Rather than return to the limitations of an era that has officially ended, credit unions should be eager to embrace the opportunities that are now suddenly in front of them.

The credit unions who are most successful through the COVID-19 crisis and beyond will likely be the ones who seize this chance to pivot and keep up with the changing demands of their members.
